Names, Faces, People and Places

Gerage joins CBC Hunter Phoenix as managing director

New York, NY Frank Gerage has joined Coldwell Banker Commercial Hunter Phoenix as managing director to lead its investment sales division. In addition, Gerage will represent the N.Y. metro market for the Coldwell Banker Commercial Multi Family Group. In this capacity, he will liaise with multifamily experts from across the nation, as part of the Coldwell Banker Commercial national network.

“Frank is all about the fast pace of the deal, while understanding the role that patience and nuance have in investment sales;” said Peter Sabesan, principal of the firm. “His expertise is welcomed here and he has already proven to be an asset to our firm.”

With 11 years in real estate, his background includes overseeing the commercial division at Bond New York and starting the first “sales only” office at Citi Habitats. Prior to working in real estate, he spent 25 years in financial services as a member of the NY Futures Exchange, trading Stock Index Futures.
